

☐ Day 2 Python Mission ♥

Hi Surbhi, my sweet Pundi ♥

Yesterday you took your very first step, and I'm already proud of you. Today is not about learning a lot—it's about enjoying one more tiny step. Keep smiling, be curious, and remember that every small mission makes you stronger. Your big brother believes in you, always. ♥

Today's Topic: Variables

- Mission 1: Create a variable to store your name.
- Mission 2: Create a variable to store your age.
- Mission 3: Print both variables.
- Mission 4: Create a variable for your favorite color and print it.
- Mission 5: Create a variable for your college name and print it.
- Mission 6: Create a variable with any number and print it.
- Mission 7 (Revision): Print "Hello, Python!" again from yesterday.

☐ A Little Note for My Sweet Pundi ♥

You don't have to become an expert overnight. Just keep showing up every day, one tiny step at a time. I'm proud that you're learning something new instead of giving up. Mistakes are proof that you're trying, and every line you write brings you closer to your dream. I'll always be cheering for you, and I can't wait to see how much you'll grow. Keep believing in yourself because I already believe in you.

With lots of love,
Your biggest supporter ♥
